Clean Slate Clackamas

Free legal record analysis and expungement services for Clackamas County residents.
It is our goal to help community members in Clackamas County reduce barriers to employment, housing, and education and to achieve personal and economic stability through the expungement of criminal legal records.

How it Works: Eligible individuals may attend an expungement clinic and have their legal record analyzed by a legal professional. If they have previous convictions that are eligible for expungement, they will receive a printed record of their expungement eligibility, have their fingerprint taken at the clinic, and receive directions on where and how to file for expungement. This is free for participants, however, depending on where their conviction took place, some people may owe a small processing fee to the city, county, or state government.

Clean Slate Clackamas can help cover the cost of this fee for individuals in need of financial assistance. Please note that certain convictions may be ineligible for expungement. Pre-eligibility screening is highly recommended; limited walk-in appointments are available. Click here to learn more!

Location: Clackamas County Children, Family & Community Connections (CFCC)
112 11th St, Oregon City OR 97045
Date and Times: Monday, May 9th, 2022 (1:00 – 5:00PM) and Monday, May 23rd, 2022 (3:00 – 7:00PM)

Registration: Click here to complete an intake form and get started!
For more information or assistance, contact: expungement@clackamasworkforce.org

Staff Spotlight: Amy Black

Amy Zulich Black is the Youth Programs Manager at Clackamas Workforce Partnership. In this role, Amy oversees contracts with community partners that provide youth (ages 16-24) with career coaching, skills training, career-connected learning experiences, support services, and more. Amy has an extensive professional background in mental health advocacy and social services for individuals with disabilities. These experiences inform her approach to serving youth in Clackamas County.

We asked Amy: What is one value that drives you?
I think of this quote from Anita Krizzan "I believe you can change the world just by being a warm, kindhearted human being". I believe workforce development done well will provide all people with access to meaningful, living-wage work. I value gratitude, grit, determination, earnestness, humor, optimism and love."

Clackamas Workforce Partnership works to solve critical issues impacting people, communities, and employers in Clackamas County, in pursuit of a dynamic local workforce and equitable economic prosperity for all.
